Mrs. Frank P. Church of Pearl street Body of Henry Mallon Discovered Near Dawley's Wharf by John Anderson-Mystery as to How and When He Got Into the River-Cut on His Head.

There is considerable mystery attached to the drowning of Charles Henry Mallon, which occurred here some time between Saturday night and Monday, his body having been discovered in the harbor by John Anderson, a boy, who was on the way to the new dock to fish. The lad with several others had gone through the Laurel Hill tunnel and were going along the wharf near Dawley's lumber yard when they saw the body of a man floating down the river. They made sure of the discovery and the Anderson boy hurried to police station and informed Chief Murphy. This was shortly after 4 o'clock.

Policeman Henderson was at once sent to investigate and with the aid of D. J. Morrissey and his motor boat Highball the body was secured at the Dawley wharf just below where the water department stores its water pipes. The body was taken to the municipal wharf and Medical Examiner De Carone P. Harris was positioned.

Was in Water Two Hours. In the crew of the forty-foot cruis because of the week of the electrical apparatus at the South Windham prover station last Friday night and the consequent crippled power a change in schedule is in effect on the Willimantic lit cline. The power for the entire line is supplied from Thamesville and because of the long distance the voltage is so low on the Willimantic ent that a change in the running time on the Willimantic line has been made. The northound Willimantic cars are leaving New London and Norwich on regular time, but at Taftville, Occum and Baltic they leave five minutes ahead of time, in order to arrive in Willimantic as near on time as possible. The short car in Willimantic is not running and the cars only go to the railroad crossing. Southbound they leave the crossing at 15 minutes past the hour, which is five minutes ahead of time, and arrive at Baltic on the regular schedule. Here the passengers and car crew are obliged to change cars, as the ten bench cars which are used between Baltic and Willimantic do not use as much power and can make quicker time.

This change remains in effect until the South Windham power-station is repaired.
